BOWLING AND WARD TO PRISON

"Our Town"

by J. B. WHITE

It is even fitting for the editor of a small newspaper to pay tribute to the late Adolph S. Ochs, who took the New York Times when it was on the verge of ruin and developed it into one of the mightiest newspapers in the world. He had the courage of his convictions and they were largely centered on the accurate presentation of news. He erected his monument in the shape of a newspaper in the best sense of the word, deliberately attracting intelligent and thinking readers. Contrary to the modern trend he did not go in for comics, features and sensationalism.

Many tributes have come to his life and his work. His newspaper is the model upon which others are building. To read it regularly is to be educated, so great is the wealth of intelligence that it spreads along with the news that it presents. He made a high mark in his calling, his memory lives and his influence and example will continue to inspire great newspapers for ages.

Every community in the United States has its natural advantages Instead of looking afar and envying some other settlement it would be far better for every town to look after its own opportunity and develop it.

In some places it may be only the possibility of maintaining an excellent environment for the rearing of good families. A community which can boast that it is a place where children may grow safely to manhood's estate has an asset better than new factories, regardless of what hot-air boosters may say.

In Cameron we boast of such a community. Here our children have the ideal place in which to form their early and lasting impressions of good living. Here they are not subjected to the wild and ruthless life that exists in many larger places. Here they see the real community of interests, a place in which the misfortunes that grieve the average family will find a responsive note of sympathy in almost every home.

This is a wonderful spirit. It is the essence of co-operation and the highest form of social development, when properly expressed. The people of Cameron should do all they can to maintain it in its best form and to see that a proper pride encourages its future growth and expression.

Eighteen years ago the United States went to war with Germany. The people of this country were lured with the hope that it would be a "war to end wars." Little did we dream of the intrigue that was abroad nor could we foresee the ingratitude of the nations to whose supplications went the flower of American manhood in khaki.

There is no use to discuss the surge of nationalism that has engulfed the world since that struggle ended, or to speculate upon what might have been. Black scuttlings drowned the hopes of millions who sacrificed and the ideal died with the lash we laid upon the backs of neighbors who were reluctant to buy Liberty Bonds. Be that as it is. Suffice it to say that the year 1935 finds the world bristling with armaments, the nations suspicious and the reign of peace apparently at an end.

Democracy itself is somewhat submerged with dictators in power in many states and new orders being established in others. Fundamentally, however, the rule of the people represents the hope of the world and we look forward confidently to the rebirth of a democracy that will be more substantial than ever when judged by its fruits in the lives of the average men and women.

C. W. LAWRENCE BUSINESS MAN DEAD

WAS 76 AND NATIVE OF MILAM COUNTY

C. W. Lawrence, 76, native of Milam county and for many years a business man in Cameron, died at his home here Sunday afternoon April 14, 1935, at 6 o'clock.

He had been in declining health for several months but it was not believed he was in immediate danger. Dr. Elbra Monroe was with Mr. Lawrence when he passed away. The end came suddenly from complications resulting from pleursy. The doctor had called at the home Sunday afternoon but had not been summoned. The sudden turn came as the doctor prepared to leave.

Mr. Lawrence was born on May 15, 1859, near Marlow in this county, and except for a few years at Milano, had made his home in Cameron. Many years ago he entered business with a hardware firm known as Lawrence & Smith. Later he established the Cameron Water, Power & Light Company and in that venture was associated with T. S. Henderson. Several years ago the company was sold to the Texas Power & Light Company. Since that time he has not been active in business and his son, W. H. Lawrence now operates the Cameron Ice and Cold Storage Company, one of the Lawrence industries here. Mr. Lawrence was the first ice dealer in Cameron.

On July 24, 1895, he was married to Miss Mary Hayden in the state of Missouri. They returned to Cameron to make their home. In religious life he was a Presbyterian, an Elder in the church and for many years has been outstanding in support of the church both as an official and layman.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Hayden Lawrence, one son, W. Hayden Lawrence, one daughter, Mrs. Fred Jackson of Cameron, and several grand children.

Funeral services were held at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon April 5, 1935, at the Presbyterian church with Rev. O. C. Acrey, his pastor, con-

Cameron Theatre is regarded here as one of the big assets of the city and its programs are enjoyed by thousands of visitors each month.

PROMINENT DOCTORS COMING FOR MEETING

Two prominent and nationally known Texas doctors will be on the next program of the Milam County Medical Society meeting on Friday, April 26.

One is Dr. Henry Hartman, who was Professor of Pathology at the University of Texas at Galveston for years. The other is Joseph Kopecky, who also was professor at the University of Texas at Galveston, then Exchange Professor from the Texas University to the University to Mexico.

Both are now from the Medical and Surgical Hospital, San Antonio.

75 YEARS

With this issue the Herald is 75 years of age. It was established in 1860 and thus for three quarters of a century it has served the people of Cameron and Milam County.

When the Herald was established Napoleon the Third ruled France; Maximilian sat on the throne of Mexico and Abraham Lincoln was beginning his momentous journey out of Illinois to take the presidency. General Robert E. Lee now endeared to the hearts of Americans in gray was wearing the uniform of the United States army. The fiery tongue of Jefferson Davis was still purging the Senate and the fateful events of the next decade were still to unfold in America's most stirring drama.

It has been, we hope, 75 years of worthy service. We acknowledge with grateful appreciation the expressions of good will and look forward to the next twenty-five years with the hope of achieving the century mark with a record of undisturbed service to the people.

YOUTHFUL CRIME FLING LEADS TO THE WALLS

Maurice Bowling and John Ward whose youthful fling at crime led them to burn the Gause High School building in the summer of 1934 because they were mad at the superintendent, were sent to the walls at Huntsville to serve terms in prison Thursday.

Both entered pleas of guilty to the charges. Ward is charged with arson and theft of an automobile. Bowling is charged with arson and assault with intent to rob Bert Williams, aged man who was beaten on the Pin Oak road.

On the night of February 20 they escaped jail and stole a car from Joe Luce and escaped. They turned the car over near Minerva but kept going. The car was found abandoned near Abilene in West Texas some weeks ago.

According to Criminal District Attorney Emory B. Camp, the men confessed to everything including the theft of the Luce car. They made their way to Los Angeles where they went to a government camp for transcients and stayed there under assumed names

They were arrested as they came back to Gause two weeks ago.

Judge Graham Gillis was preparing to impose sentence on the men this afternoon after argument had been concluded. The case called Monday was postponed to give Joe Luce opportunity to return and testify.

FALL FAIR PLANS MATURING RAPIDLY

Car Load of Fruit Jars Unloaded At Green & Boedeker

A solid car load of Ball Fruit Jars consisting of 2200 cases was unloaded this week at the Green & Boedeker store in Cameron.

The huge shipment has been stored in the second story of the building, occupying a space some 5 feet wide by 80 feet long and 8 feet high. This is the largest shipment of fruit jars ever received in Cameron by a local merchant.

In addition the store has received large shipments of cans for use in the rural districts for canning foods. The jars are all glass tops and come at the time when Miss Kimbrough is in the county for the Ball Brothers Company giving free canning demonstrations.

The big Easter sale now on at this store gives promise of being one of the outstanding events of this year. "We believe that merchandise bought right an dpriced right and kept in stock for customers when they need it is the best method of service," said Leland Green, Sr.

Jos. Matula Store Enjoys Good Trade

Jos. Matula's Grocery in Santa Fe Town, reports the best volume of business in the history of the store.

In this issue of the Herald the second message of economy goes to the readers. This bargain list of specials for Friday and Saturday is the second of a series of ads to be run in the Herald telling of the service and merchandise of this new store. Food buyers for the Easter holidays will be glad to read this message of savings on better foods. The store is operating a delivery service.

Mr. Matula has found newspaper advertising the best and most economical method of getting a message over to the buyers.

PUBLISHERS NOTICE

Many new readers have been added to the list of the Herald. For two weeks we have been unable to find space and time to introduce them. All new readers will be introduced in time.

HOUSING PLANS PROGRESSING HERE

Local observers were well pleased with the advances made here this week in the interest of more building under the stimulation of both private capital and the government.

Already two Cameron line yards are advertising that financial plans are at hand for building. The visit here Wednesday of Hubert McPeak was a great stimulation to the movement.

R. P. Fisher of the Jeter Lumber Company is on record to take over commitments to the Federal Housing Administration in Dallas, and Albert Matula of the Wm. P. Carey yard here has been advertising his own finance plan. Neither of the two yards thus far to get in line to aid building are operating on government money. It is private capital to which the paper has outlet.

Conditions of borrowing are extremely favorable, said Mr. Fisher who says he has the market available for all the loans he can supply.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE

Milam county juries continued to give suspended sentences this week. C. W. Arthur charged by indictment with theft, was found guilty Monday and given a three year suspended sentence.

"Duke" Prize Walker Dog Runs Last Race; Fox Trail Leads Into Fast Train

"Duke" pedigreed Walker Fox hound, lies dead near the tracks of the Houston and Texas Central in Robertson county. He was struck by a fast freight as he ran a fox across the rails. Intent upon the chase and heedless of the danger that bore down upon him, he plunged to his death knowing nothing of "how to quit."

The dog was a prized member of the famous kennels of Penn Wolf, district clerk in Cameron. "Duke" led the pack Saturday night in the fox hills of Robertson county. Mr. Wolf had taken his dogs to the chase. When the dog did not appear next day a search was made. A negro walking along the railroad met the party of hunters and told them a dog had been killed by a train. A little further along they found him. "He just didn't know when to quit," said Mr. Wolf with moist eyes, as he saw "Duke's" body mangled by the rails.

"Duke" was five years old and traced his lineage back to the best of the Walker strains. He was by War Cry 2nd out of Corky. War Cry 2nd was by Robert Walker's War Cry. Corky was by Woods Walker's "Old Cork." He was white, black and tan.

"Duke was a tireless hunter," said Mr. Wolf. "Far above the pack his voice could be heard, clear and volumnious. In the distance it came to the hunters with striking melody and always when a stranger who did not know Duke would hear the distant music of the pack, he would ask about the mouth of the dog and always they would ask me to point him out when the run was over."

Duke was a tireless hunter, a cold trailer and strike dog, was highly trained and showed in his record the influence of thoroughbred strains.

"Duke" was true to his great strain. In a great burst of speed born of stamina that only his kind may know, he ran hot on the trail of the fox that night on Salters place in Robertson county. Heedless and unafraid he paid no attention to the thundering train ahead, the trail led across the tracks. "Duke" knew trails, had burned them up mile after mile through long nights and days of running. After all he was the great leader. From the strains of ancient forbears the thrill of the chase stirred his pedigreed blood and he led with the speed of the wind.

Far across the distance came the faint cry of the pack and the mouth of Duke encompassed the hills with melody. He was making his last great run, a mad and gruelling race against a pack of sterling Walkers streaming along back of his trail. The fox sped across the rails to safety. Duke plunged straight into the split second of space and lost. After all he was true to the end and died in harness, justifying the faith and patience of the months his master spent in his development.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY

The General Assembly for Ada Henderson, which meets every two weeks, was taken up by a fourth grade play entitled "Tardy Town," and some musical selections by Mrs. Sprott's music class. The characters of the play were:

Johnny	Bobby Hayes
Johnny's Mother	Nadine Wilson
Mayor of Tardy Town	Alvin Meyer
Put-off	Mack Nicholson
Postpone	Clayton Kahler
In a Minute	Burnett Morris
By and Bye	Maurice Owings
After a While	William Skelton
Pretty Soon	Douglas Caldwell
Dragon I Don't Care	I. J. Braden
Slow Pokes	James Gunn and Floyd Schulz, Bobby Vaughn and Jess Mabry.
Rover	Robert Lee Shoaf

The play was a very interesting account of a boy who, when told to do something, always said, "In a minute," or "Wait a While." Johnny the boy fell asleep, after reading a fairy story and dreamed that the people of Tardy Town visited him and asked him to go to their town to live, but when he refused, they became angry and called in a dragon to eat him up. There was no time in Tardy Town, but as the inhabitants of this town were on earth it became too late for the dragon to eat Johnny because he kept putting it off. At last Rover, Johnny's dog, started coming into the house after the lazy people of Tardy Town, who became frightened and ran. The play ended by Johnny saying "Wait a minute" to his mother when she told him to do something, then remembering his sad experience in his dream, he jumped up and yelled, "Right Now."

The latter part of the program was filled by some musical selections played by Mrs. Sprott's music class. First, two piano numbers:. Busy Little Honey Bee, were played —at piano number 1 were Nadine Wilson and Linda Perkins; at piano number 2 Charlotte Perkins and Eva Jean Przybysz. A piano solo, Spanish dance, was played by Frances Lesovsky. Next Eva Jean Przybysz gave a violin solo. Cotton Pickers was the song played by Bobby Collins. Nadine Wilson gave a piano solo entitled Uucle Cy. Some drills and exercises, I through IV were acted by Linda Perkins, Doris Nell McLane, Bernice Humbles, Rebecca Jean Muse, Doris Marie Collins, Bernice Jean Longmire and Lauretta Wilson.

OPERETTA

This fine musical entertainment is under the supervision and guidance of Miss Clement, Miss Mantor and Miss Porter, all of the Ada Henderson building. This operetta is presented by the pupils of the Ada Henderson School. The plot, in order of acts is as follows:

Act I. Teddy and Dotty, who have run away from their playmates, are spending the night in a daisy field. The evening breezes sway the daisies and sing them to sleep and the run away fairy plays about among the flowers. Morning comes, and the children awoke. The run away fairy asks them to help the fairy queen, who is in distress because mortal children do not believe in fairies. Since Teddy and Dotty are eager to help, the run away fairy takes them to Fairyland.

Act II. The children arrived in Fairyland where the fairy queen greets them. She tells Teddy and Dotty that in order to help her, they are to be king and queen in the land of unbelieving children. The rainbow, sunshine, dewdrop and dream fairies present their gifts to the children, who leave for the land of mortals.

Act III. Teddy and Dotty return to Fairyland with a message from the unbelieving children, asking for forgiveness and promising to be true always. The queen promises the

When Mrs. Ida Hege, of Edinburg, Ind., was in a painful, rundown condition, she took Cardui, with the results she describes below: "I had just been what one might say dragging around, feeling miserable and all out of sorts. I remembered how Cardui helped my aunt. I sent for six bottles of Cardui and when I had taken them, I was much better and stronger. I did not suffer so much pain. I continued taking Cardui until I had taken nine bottles. I do not have the severe pains." . . . Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

November 15	Belton at Belton

BELTON, April 13.—Coaches of class B schools in this district met here Saturday morning and voted to adopt the same schedules for 1935 that were used in 1934, switching the places for games.

After discussing the splitting up of the district, the coaches decided to leave the district as it has been and again play a round robin tournament. E. T. Robbins of Taylor was elected chairman of the committee for the coming year. A. B. Smith of Granger will serve as secretary and R. L. Hiles of Georgetown will be the third member of the board. E. D. Johnston of Belton is first alternate and E. A. Perrin of Cameron second alternate.

The coaches seemed to be of the opinion that Rockdale, Cameron, and Thrall will be the three toughest teams in the race next fall. Cameron and Rockdale lost very few members of their last year's squads, while Georgetown and Belton were hardest hit by graduation. Even this early in the year, however, no team has appearance of a push-over.

The schedules as worked out were:

Rosebud—Oct. 4 at Georgetown; Oct. 11 at Rockdale; Oct. 25 at Belton; Nov. 1 Cameron; Nov. 8 Taylor; Nov. 15 at Granger; Nov. 22 at Thrall.

Rockdale—Oct. 4 at Taylor; Oct. 11 Rosebud; Oct. 25 at Georgetown; Nov. 1 Granger; Nov. 8 at Cameron; Nov. 15 at Thrall; Nov. 22 at Belton.

Georgetown—Oct. 4 Rosebud; Oct. 11 Cameron; Oct. 18 at Granger; Oct. 25 Rockdale; Nov 1 at Belton; Nov. 8 at Thrall; Nov. 15 at Taylor.

Taylor—Oct 4 Rockdale; Oct. 11 at Belton; Oct. 18 at Cameron; Nov. 1, Thrall; Nov. 8 at Rosebud; Nov. 15 Georgetown; Nov. 22 Granger.

Thrall—Oct. 4 at Cameron; Oct. 11 at Granger; Oct. 18 Belton; Nov. 1 at Taylor; Nov. 8 Georgetown; Nov. 15 Rockdale; Nov. 22 Rosebud.

Granger—Oct. 11 Thrall; Oct. 18 Georgetown; Oct. 25 at Cameron; Nov. 1 at Rockdale; Nov. 8 Belton; Nov. 15 Rosebud; Nov. 22 at Taylor.

Belton—Sept. 27 McGregor; Oct. 11 Taylor; Oct. 18 at Thrall; Oct. 25 at Rosebud; Nov. 1 Georgetown; Nov. 8 at Granger; Nov. 15 Cameron; Nov. 22 Rockdale.

Milam Cantaloupe Acreage This Year Near 1,500 Acres

ROCKDALE.—Cantaloupe acreage in the Rockdale, Milano and Minerva areas totals over 1,500 acres according to reports received at a meeting of growers of the Rockdale area held in the city hall recently.

Rockdale reports approximately 300 acres, Minerva 300 and unofficial reports from Milano place the acreage around 1,000 acres. The largest individual growers are in Milano country several parties having planted from 75 to 125 acres it was stated.

The condition of the crop was reported good, with plants growing fast and at a goodstand. A minimum of insect infestation was reported. T. Y. McCormick, Minerva grower estimated that crea to be from 10 days to two weeks earlier than last year which would bring the maturity date up to between June 1 and 10.

POLE HITS TRAIN

Cumberland—It is usually the telegraph pole that gets the worst of the bargain in any collision but this time the pole took the offessive and did some toppling of its own account. As a locomotive reached a crossing, the train crew was surprised to see a telegraph pole topple over on the locomotive. Train brakes were immediately applied and the only apparent damage was the pulling down of some wires.

URGES SEAL SALES

Charles F. Ashcroft

"At Eastertide every person should buy some Crippled Children Seals and help bring health and happiness to some unfortunate Texas crippled child" pleads Charles F. Ashcroft, Sulphur Springs, president of the Texas Society for Crippled Children. Hundreds of little boys and girls can be saved from life long and hopeless deformity if operated on in time. We are selling these Easter Seals in order to raise money to cure them. They are on sale at our offices 304 Walton Building, Austin, and at many local headquarters. Seals cost a penny each. The federal government will match every dollar raised in this campaign."

Italy Plans New Drive in War on Tuberculosis

Rome.—Over 20,000,000 persons are insured against consumption in Italy, and 5,000 beds in special hospitals are set aside for the cure of such cases.

It is now announced that a new drive is to be put into effect this year and next, which will bring the number of hospital beds available for tuberculosis cases up to 20,000.

Fascist organizations here boast that nothing so ambitious has been attempted in any other country.

Fascism has engaged in a regular campaign to drive consumption out of the country, and the weapon chiefly relied on is the obligatory insurance system now in force for employees, workmen and servants of nearly all categories.

In fact, nearly 80 per cent of the cases offered state assistance in attacks from the disease were treated in special hospitals and sanatoria. When the disease has reached a certain stage of development removal of the patient becomes imperative according to the policy at present being followed by the Fascist doctors.

Massachusetts Family Has Unexpected Guest

Newton, Mass.—The Mansfields had unexpected company that arrived at their door by automobile.

Mary F. McGlone, the visitor, who was driving her car for only the second time, with a companion, became confused, stepped on the accelerator instead of the brake, mistook John J. Mansfield's driveway for a street, drove over the front lawn, and ended her escapade by plowing through the front door into the reception hall. A pair of stairs stopped her, or, perhaps, she might have toured the house.

Lightning Leaves Freak Trail Through Domicile

Groton, Conn.—Lightning left a freak trail through Ernest Blackington's home. Striking a tree, it dug a ditch to the porch, pushed a cart 15 feet, split the kitchen linoleum, then smashed a door casing, followed a water pipe to the sink, twisting the pipe near a faucet, tore a moulding on a screen door, knocked plaster from the ceiling, and left through the roof, displacing shingles and leaving two large holes.

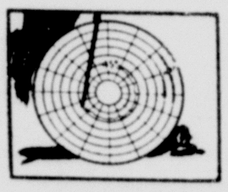
What Is . . .

AIR CONDITIONED REFRIGERATION?



TEMPERATURE CONTROL . . .

Modern air-conditioned refrigeration maintains—without interruption—just the right temperature necessary to keep your food in perfect condition—to prevent freezing—to safeguard your health.

CORRECT HUMIDITY . . .

Modern air-conditioned refrigeration gives you balanced humidity—that keeps tender vegetables from wilting—keeps fruit and meat from drying out. Food retains its original Nature-Freshness only when your refrigerator contains a NATURALLY humidified air—air with just the right moisture content.

CIRCULATING FRESH AIR . . .

Fresh, pure air—constantly circulating and washed—carries away all odors. You can place onions, cabbage and other foods in the same storage space with milk or butter. Only air-conditioned refrigeration can give you the fresh circulating air that is necessary to healthful food preservation.

LEARN THE FACTS!

Air conditioning is recognized today as the modern safeguard to health and comfort. Leading hotels, railroads, offices, theaters and restaurants realize its importance. Enjoy air-conditioned refrigeration in your home! Ask your ice dealer to demonstrate this NEW and DIFFERENT method of refrigeration to you.

why WE BUY FROM WESTERN ELECTRIC

• As the world's best purchasing agent, she applies the same rules of thrifty buying used by the Bell System.

A special study based on 3,000 separate items of telephone equipment and supplies indicates this fact: Western Electric, as supply unit of the Bell System, sells to Bell operating companies for a fourth less, on the average, than the lowest price offered by independent supply firms.

This of course does not mean a saving of a fourth on every item bought from Western Electric. Some supplies... paper, paints, poles, for example... range from 5 to 17 per cent under usual market prices. Others, such as telephones, cables, and switchboards, show similar variations in the amount saved.

But the important point, clearly indicated, is that Western's prices are appreciably lower to us than open market prices.

As one of the 24 associated companies of the Bell System, we buy most of our equipment and much of our supplies from Western because we get bargains there, because we get uniform quality and the assurance of exact performance . . . and because Western Electric parts are so designed that future improvements and developments will fit into and work with equipment already in use.

These factors help us materially in achieving the Bell System policy of good telephone service at fair cost to the user.

Strange Figures

For the first time in recent years February showed a decline in the number of families on relief. While the reduction was not so great, being only 1.3 per cent, previous Februaries have shown substantially increases over the Januaries ahead of them.

The total families on relief in February of this year was 4,485,076 and compares with 2,599,976 in February of last year.

The figures contrast with recorded gains for the year in both factory employment and pay rolls. It also happened in the same period that saw an increase of $163,000,000 in deposits in mutual savings banks, an increase of 423,000 in the number of new accounts in these institutions and an increase of $793,000,000 in the volume of new insurance whitten by life insurance companies.

"Narrow-Minded vs. Liberal"

The church people in a community are often criticised for being "narrow minded." That in itself, is not as bad an epithet as some believe. It is all right to be "narrow minded" if your narrowness means the elimination of the unimportant and the concentration of your entire faculties on the important.

Religion, however, cannot be expressed solely in lip-service, but must be lived, and, for this reason, any worth-while religion must be livable. For that reason the world has long since abandoned the conception of a religious man or woman as one who goes through life with a long face and spreads gloom and restrictions wherever possible.

Christianity, as expressed by the Great Teacher, did not include set rules so much as a rule of individual conduct. This being the truth many have taken advantage of it and tried to make any restriction of license un-Christian. This is just as foolish as intolerance or bigotry. It is, perhaps more common in our land today, and, more dangerous, because it works under the mistaken assumption of liberality and tolerance.

No community can afford to let the so-called "liberal" element run wild. If it did the decent people would soon have to hold their noses or evacuate their homes. You will always find a minority of any group ready and willing to throw away all pretense of righteousness. They will raise a stench that will make living intolerable for many of better minds and morals.

Question the Peddler

The peddler that comes to your door is probably a man or woman trying to make an honest living. As such they deserve courtesy and kind treatment, but not your patronage.

There is no reason for prejudice against the out of town houses that try to get your money. They are only pushing their business as they have a right to do, and are to be commended for doing it.

The reason the peddlers visit this town and the mail order catalogs come is because there are a number of suckers living in Cameron. Most of them think they are doing the wise thing in getting a "bargain," but that is because they do not think. They do not accept a community of interest that will eventually lead to a community of progress and success.

The next time a peddler raps at your door greet him with a smile, and these questions.

"Does your company pay any taxes or support our schools?"

"Do you, or your company, contribute to the churches of Cameron?"

"Have you ever contributed to help a neighbor of ours when stricken by disaster?"

"What, if anything, have you or your company, ever done to help make Cameron a better place for our children to live in? Do you offer any opportunity to them when they grow older and seek places to work?"

If any of them get by these four, let us know about it and we will suggest a few others. If, after interrogating the visiting brother you think it to your own best interest to ignore local merchants and home enterprises, without giving them a hearing, let your conscience be your guide.

Trading at Home

There are a number of people living in this town who laugh at the idea it is best to buy at home. They take the position that it does not matter where they spend their money if they get their money's worth. They subscribe to the doctrine that the only obligation they owe the home town is to get what they can out of it.

Our idea of trading at home does not include buying goods from merchants who attempt exorbitant profits. It does not necessitate the acceptance of worn, dirty or bedraggled goods from old time merchants who think that it is up to the community to keep them in business. It only means giving the local merchant a chance and then, to buy if he can reasonably meet other competition.

The local merchants, on their side, have duties in regard to this trade at home idea. They must keep the buyer informed as to what they have to sell. They must stock new goods. They must be accommodating and render real service to the purchaser. They must refuse to push shoddy goods, or to sell to a customer something that is apt to be unprofitable. In short, they must maintain, at all times the confidence of the community.

The average citizen should, we take it, have pleasure in increasing the total volume of local business. Out of this sum is taken the prosperity of all of us. The larger it is the bigger the average share. Every citizen that spends his dollars at home helps that much in making the business of the community bigger. He helps the town expand, put on new growth and support new enterprises.

Our Farms Increase

Preliminary returns from the farm census indicate a marked increase in number of farms, attributable, according to officials, to the number of persons who went back to the country when city jobs vanished.

In 1930 we had 6,300,000 farms, and the new count will show about 500,000 more. The farms, it is true, are smaller and the population larger. Whether the acreage in cultivation has increased cannot be determined until the census is completed.

The chances are that many of the new farms are subsistence projects undertaken by persons who have been forced to go back to the primary source of life when other pursuits failed them.

Commendation and Warning

The Irish Free State is now paying the holders of bonds sold in 1929 and 1921 when there were two governments fighting for control in Ireland. Inasmuch as the public revenues were in the hands of the opposition the Republican government had to depend upon contributions. It sold about $5,000,000 worth of bonds to sympathizers in this country.

There is much to commend in the action of the Free State, which was, and is, under no legal obligation to repay the holders, because the condition of repayment was that a republic must be set up and all British troops removed from Irish soil. Also, there is something to praise in the action of the Irish people here in supporting what they considered the cause of their people.

However, there is this to say in regards to the advisability of the citizens of this country contributing to other political causes anywhere else in the world. It is dangerous. It involves violent partisanship. It invites participation in struggles with which the United States, as a nation, has nothing to do. While our sympathy goes out to all people struggling to secure freedom for themselves it does not go far enough to warrant any active partnership which might involve our government.

The way some people contribute to the relief of the poor would make you think that the community had no needy.

We understand that the creative urge explains poets and inventors. The puzzle is what keeps newspaper men going.

You don't have to believe every salesman that comes to see you, especially if he has some substitute for working for what you get.

Communications to the Herald should alway sbe signed by the writer. Otherwise they go into the waste-basket.

Big business men who complain about what the government does for the farmer rarely objects to tariffs, subsides, bonuses and other favors.

We can't say what will happen in the next two years but there has been considerable progress along the road to recovery. Let us hope that it keeps up.

Intelligence will win out in any struggle with emotion and prejudice but it may be a long time in doing so and the people may have a big damage bill to pay.

Holding companies that complain of proposed regulation might come forward with suggestions to prevent admitted wrongs of the past, even though that will not restore money lost by innocent participants in recent crashes.

Dr. W. R. Newton, Jr. Marries Ruth Nichols of Clarendon Tuesday at 6 p. m. in Houston

Dr. William R. Newton, Jr., Cameron physician, and Miss Ruth Nichols of Clarendon, were married at 6 p. m. Tuesday in Houston.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. S. Hutcherson, former paston of the First Baptist Church in Cameron and now a Houston pastor. Dr. A. A. Ledbetter was the bridegroom. After the ceremony Dr. and Mrs. Newton left Houston for a trip to Florida on their honeymoon. They will return to Cameron within a short time where they will make their home and where Dr. Newton is now engaged in practice with offices in the First National Bank building.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Nichols of Clarendon and for some time has been one of the assistant superintendents in Thomas Jefferson Memorial Hospital in Houston and directly in charge of the obstetrics division of the hospital. It was while he was serving his interneship that Dr. Newton met Miss Nichols. After his service in the hospital he returned to Cameron and began his practice. The bride is a young woman of beauty, culture and refinement and will grace the newly made home in Cameron.

Dr. Newton is the son of Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Newton, Sr., of Cameron. He was born at Buckholts when his father was a pioneer physician there. Later the family moved to Cameron and the Cameron Hospital was established by Dr. Newton. He graduated from Cameron High school and immediately began his medical career. His student record is one of brilliance and his talents have given him great promise of success in the field of medicine and surgery. He received his medical education in State medical school at Galveston and has spent much time in other branches to complete his education.

Last year Dr. Newton opened offices in the First National Bank building.

The wedding plans had not been announced prior to Dr. Newton's visit to Houston on Tuesday, but they were known to a few friends and the families. They will be in Cameron soon and will take up residence in quarters already provided.

LaGRANGE IS HOST TO LOCAL HIGHWAY ADVOCATES

CAMERON MEN JOIN IN PLEA FOR VITAL ROAD

(From LaGrange Journal)

Determined to keep alive an effort that had its birth several years ago, to keep active interest on the part of those who live in the several counties in Texas, along what is known and so designated as U. S. Highway No. 77 of Texas, and realizing that much activity and interest must be exercised in order o secure the proper attention from the State Highway Commission, delegates came to LaGrange last Monday from towns and cities from LaGrange to Corpus Christi and from Dallas on south to LaGrange. And the delegation was composed of county officials, business men, and bankers. They were received with a cordial welcome of words from Mayor Robson, and that welcome on behalf of the Association was responded to by W. W. Gibbard of Dallas, representing (and a member of) the Highway committee of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce.

Embodied in the remarks of both the Mayor and the Gentleman from Dallas, was an urge to not lose interest in the proposed work, yet to be done, and work together, in the proper spirit, with, as one of the delegates has said: "Keeping the fire burning for the benefit of the Highway commission until he highway from Canada to the coast of Corpus Christi, is completed." The remarks of both were accepted with the agreeable flavor that gives assurance of concerted action.

While there were many references to road and conditions of roads, the gap that existed in Lee county was "romped" upon in an unmerciful manner, so much so that Editor C. M. Bishop of Giddings found it necessary to mention that Giddngs and Lee county were among the first to build highways, an dbuild them with out state aid. After the ruffled feelings were smoothed the real work was entered into. The meeting was presided over by the President H. C. Meyer of Austin, who has been an active worker for many years for the direct route highway, and when the smooth sailing was in order the delegates from the various towns and cities responded by self introduction, and word of co-operation. Sufficient thus for the incidental features.

Byrd Harris of Corpus Christi, together with Secretary Arnold of Cuero, and others north and south of LaGrange entered into the hour's discussion with timely remarks and greetings from their cites and chambers of commerce. Senator Sulak, called by the chair, stated that in a recent conversation with the highway officials, he had given the assurance that the gaps in No. 44 in Lee county and from LaGrange to the Lee county line, would soon be considered, and contracts for the building and topping of these gaps was next in consideration by the Commission.

Committee to prepare resolutions, which were to be considered at the afternoon session was named, this committee is composed of the following: Judge Theo. W. Lueders, LaGrange, chairman; R. A. Thompson of Dallas, Dr. H. J. Hertel of Giddings, E. A. Camp of Rockdale and Byrd Harris of Corpus Christi. The report of this committee, in the form of resolutions that were offered and adopted, was submitted at the afternoon session.

During the afternoon session there was also brought to the attention of the convention several telegrams, expressing regret at not being able to be present from Division Engineer Manegaul, of Austin and a telegram from the county judge of Cameron county informing the Association that the cities of Harlingen, San Benito and Brownville were in hearty accord with the ideas that had been advanced through the press, an dthat they would stand squarely behind the Association.

Several reports from the different counties along the highway were verbally made by the delegates present, and every indication presented that the efforts of the association would be given the support of the officials and citizens along the route. Giddings, through C. M. Bishop and Judge Schlossahahn expressed their thanks, and speaking in behalf of all the citizens of that county, said that their county would be greatly benefitted, also giving the information to the convention that they could not have handled the highway matter in their county otherwise, and that delegations from their county had appeared before the Highway Commission at every meeting held in the past two years.

The following were selected as members of the committee (from over the highway route) to appear before the Highway Commission to plead the cause for the completion of the highway to Corpus Christi:

Judge Oscar C. Dancy, Nat Wetzel, Brownville; N. M. Weyland, Roy Miller, Roy Cliff, Corpus Christi; Alex Lillier, Refugio; Judge J. J. Woodborn, Victoria; Judge R. J. Walluk, J. W. Arnold, Cureo; S. H. Simpson Fred Lacy, Hallettsville; T. R. Allsen, Rosebud; Judge Theo. W. Lueders, Judge John P. Ehlinger, T. Lee Smith, Dr. B .Schmidt, LaGrange; Judge H. T. Schlosshan, H. G. Hertel, C. M. Bishop, Giddings; J. A. Treadwell, Tanglewood; H. C. Meyer, E. A. Camp, Cameron; Judge J. T. Kemp, W. F. Paden, Cameron; W. B. Crawford, Waco; Oscar Lander, Waxahachie, W. B. Gibbard, Dallas.

President Meyer, announcing that the hour for the election of officers had arrived, stated, in plea, that he wished not to have the office of president again, because of several cumbersome duties assigned in offices of the state in which he was a member. Dr. H. J. Hertel of Giddings was then elected president; Judge Theo. W. Lueders, vice president, and J. W. Arnold of Cuero, secretary. The motion to adjourn was promptly seconded and carried.

During the noon hour, or shortly thereafter the visitors were escorted to the Fair Grounds where an excellent barbecue was served and from there they drove to Monument Hill, where they viewed the scenery that abounds, and heard a brief talk by B. F. Harigal, as to why the bones of the decimated Mier Prisoners and the Dawson men were entombed there.

LaGrange, while much more may be said, and several of the prominent personages present could be given notice, feels proud to have had these prominent citizens for the day. That there will be greater activity during the coming months and that the highway will be completed, especially the gaps mentioned at the beginning of this report, it is believed to be assured. At the least mention, it may be said that the citizens along the highway from Dallas to Brownville are going to do their darndest; the Centennial means much to Texas, it means much to Dallas and the cities and towns along the highway. Hence, concerted action and a plea that the Highway Commission can no longer ignore.

Come again, folks!

THE TEXAS BLUEBONNETS

George Bowman

Texas, Texas, the Lone Star State,
Where the blue bonnets grow when it isn't very late.
The blue bonnets grow nearly all the year,
In the good old state, Texas so dear.
The blue bonnets greet spring with a cheer,
And I mean almost every year.
When you see on the hill the pretty bonnets
It almost makes you want to write sonnets.
Every state has a flower, I know,
But Texas grows best without any snow;
Texas has wild flowers of every hue,
But none are so pretty as the bonnets of blue.
When out to the country for a ride
There on the hill tops, side by side
Millions of blue bonnets the shade of the sky,
Nodding their heads as you go by.

MARCH

Joe Lloyd Mitchell

Blow, blow,
March winds blow,
Up in the sky, the kites do go,
It blows the leaves, it blows the dirt
It blows the hats, it blows the skirt,
The days of March are nearly o'er
You had better let your big kite soar.

MARCH

Wayland Kidd

Her number of days is thirty-one,
Mostly school and little fun,
Though in her term we get to greet
The girls and boys at county meet.
While she rules she ever sends
Little rain but lots of winds.
Fogs of dust may take their flights,
Still we hoist and watch our kites.

WINDY MARCH

Vera Lane

March is already here,
The month of good cheer,
The birds are singing,
The sun is beaming.
So let us all be happy,
Spring will make it snappy,
And the roses of red
In our yards will spread.
The boys are flying kites,
The girls never saw such sights;
The girls picking flowers,
Spend many happy hours.
The rippling streams
Makes the lovely sun flowers beam,
On it's banks and sway
First this way and that way.

MARCH

Mary Jane Brock

Gay old March has come at last,
Just look at the hats flying past.
Little boys are on the streets
Earning pennies, one, two, three.
Look at the kites high in the sky,
Such bright colors, Oh, My!
Little boys are here and there,
Girls cheering everywhere.
The trees look so pretty and green,
And the gay flowers seen,
Seem to brighten the world
For each little boy and each little girl.
And so when March ends
We'll have to stay in,
And watch April showers
Pour down hour, after hour.

MARCH AND MY KITE

Grady Baskin

O, winds of March, make my kite soar,
Let it go onward, onward till it can rise no more,
Now, mother is calling, and I must go there,
O! Come down, my kite so fair.
O, Come down, come down, for I must go home,
And I cannot leave you up there to roam,
Then come down, come down, my beatiful kite,
So I can go home and fix you up for night.

MARCH

Doris E. Newton

March has come;
Let's have some fun!
One way I know
Is to romp, high and low.
Another thing,
That people do,
Is fly their kites
Up in the blue.
Still another,
A glorious sport!
Playing baseball
Out on the court.
Other things,
They can't all be named,
Make up this month,
So greatly famed.

YOUTHS GET "FIND"

Atlanta.—Three youths who found a small fortune in gold dust and bullion, valued at $15,540, beneath a rock in a field in Cherokee county 3 years ago, have been given thier "find" by a decision of the Georgia supreme court, which held that the title to the treasure trove belongs to the finder "as against all the rest of the world" if the true owner is not known. F. R. Groover, owner of the land, had appealed to the court to recover the gold.

WALKS 7,488 MILES TO SCHOOL

Slaughters, Ky.—Ralph Scott has figured that he will have walked 7,488 miles to and from school by the time he graduates this year. Except for a few rides, he has walked four miles to and four miles from school each day for four years.

STATE SUPERVISOR LAUDS CITY SCHOOL

Superintendent E. A. Perrin of the Cameron Schools, has been commended by the state of Texas for his interest and work as the head of the local schools.

M. B. Brown, state supervisor, was in Cameron recently and made a report on the Cameron schools which he declares to be making great progress under Mr. Perrin. The report of Mr. Brown is as follows:

In order that the schools may be properly certified it is essential that minimum requirements be met. To that end the supervisor who recently visited your school makes the following recommendations:

Buildings and grounds are well kept and indicate good taste in shrubbery and flowers. The interest in the work and enthusiasm for their school that was evident in the faculty shows good judgment in the choice of faculty members and superior wisdom in leadership on the part of those in authority. With a faculty of this kind and right thinking student body, there but one possible result and that is an all round high type of work.

Commendation is expressed for these worthy accomplishments since a former visit by a representative of the department:

Two teachers added to the high school faculty.

One teacher added to the grammar school faculty.

325 books for library.

$294 laboratory equipment.

20 new typewriting machines.

Cabinet for 80 pupils built in typewriting room.

50 new window curtains.

Third year of home economics added.

Third year of vocational agriculture added.

New course in business law added.

$1012 athletic debt retired.

Football field built up and resodded.

Dramatic, press, and debate clubs organized.

Courtesies at the hands of Superintendent Perrin went far in the pleasure of the visit.

W. B. Brown, State Supervisor.

ducting the services. The Leland Green Funeral Home directed arrangements with burial in Oak Hill Cemetery in the family plot.

Pallbearers were: Robert McLane, John Watson, E. Eggert, James Watson, R. H. McIntosh, O. L. Kidd, Monty Thomas, W. G. Gillis.

Honorary Pallbearers were: T. S. Henderson, H. F. Smith, J. M. Ralston, D. W. Jackson, H. M. Hefley, F. S. Lesovsky, Jack Lewis, W. F. Paden, Guy Newton, Rush Thomas, Dr. Monroe, J. F. Guggolz, W. O. Newton, C. N. Green, O. M. Smith, M. M. Johnson, R. L. Batte.

In the funeral oration Mr. Acrey said in part:

"Not only has a loss been sustained by his family, but Cameron has lost one of the finest men, one of the most intelligent business men and one of its faithful philantropists in the loss of Mr. Lawrence.

"As a man Mr. Lawrence was true. He possessed a conscientious loyalty to what he believed to be right and true. He exhibited an affirmative intellect. It was not a factor with him what others said; he had the courage to do what he thought was right. His conduct was beyond the point of being swayed by what was popular or customary. Duty was the goal and that goal he pressed with sincerity and purity of purpose. This he did without fear and without reproach, choosing to please God rather than man.

"In things great and small, with exactitude and scrupulous honor, he kept the faith. The sense of obligation to his trusts was vital and it helped to make him prudent in promise, but sure in performance. Conscience and intellect united him in one object, the truth as he understood truth. This attitude was rooted in him, and he could not suffer it to be moved whatever else may be shaken. One does not claim that its manifestations were in state of perfections. He would have scorned such a claim or anything approaching it. Indeed, he often did, and advocated that which was opposed to his personal taste and desire, because he believed it necessary to larger interests. Such behavior had a singular power over his fellowmen, whether they agreed with him or not.

"With him citizenship was a sacred trust as well as a privilege, and the discharge of its responsibilities, he discharged with conscientious care. He was a student of the science of government. He was not only a citizen but a statesman in his outlook on the welfare of humanity.

"As a business man he will be missed. His fine mental acumen, his sensible, conservative opinions in matters were noted. He was a clear thinker, and he resoned out each proposition that came up before him with a singleness of purpose and desire to know right. He was gifted with discretion, initiative and unique genius that made him a peer in the business world. This same earnest thinking permeated everything he did, not only in business but in his home and his church and social life.

"As a philantrophist his sympathy went out toward multiplied need. In charitable work both in the church and outside of the church he was ready and faithful and increasingly useful. Much of his gains were given away in silent philanthropy. Many are the times that he has gone on deeds of helpfulness that no one else knew of. It would be difficult to estimate the measure of his benefactions.

"He had served as a commissioner to the General Assembly of the presbyterian church U. S. At the time of his death he was an Elder of the Cameron Church and a beloved member of the Home Mission Committee of the Presbytery. He was deeply interested in all problems of the church.

"We have lost a man of solid strength and noble serviceableness."

KC TO STAGE PLAY FOR SCOUT BENEFIT

On Friday night April 26 a four-act comedp drama entitled "Happy Valey" will be staged in the Knights of Columbus Hall in Cameron for the benefit of the Jamboree fund of Troop 52 Boy Scouts of America which is sponsored by the Cameron Council.

The purpose of this fund is to send a representative from the scout troop to the national jamboree to be held in Washington this summer. From August 21 to 30, 1935, thirty thousand boys representing the Boy Scouts troops of America will encamp somewhere near the Washington monument in the city of Washington to celebrate the first American Jamboree and the 25th anniversary of Scouting in America.

One year ago President Roosevelt in a radio hook-up on the occasion of the scout anniversary week, requested that the scouts celebrate their silver anniversary in the City of Washington. Although it would be physically impossible for every Scout in the country to be present, he requested that every nook and corner of the country be represented.

In order to have a quota that can be taken care of the Scout officials have limited the number of representatives to one boy for each troop. As each contingent must be self-supporting, the general public has been asked that each troop and their sponsoring body raise funds by several prescribed methods. For this reason this entertainment will be produced, and the public is most cordially invited. Both troop 52 and 53 of Cameron hope to be represented in Washington this summer.

Shorty Matula, captain of the K. C. team, led in hits for the day with a single, a double and a triple in four times to bat. Final score Granger 13, Cameron 5.
